

Celebrating our team's journeys and achievements

David Bartley, Senior Recruitment Consultant, Hays UK&I

What was your background before joining Hays?

“Before working at Hays, I was a professional make-up artist and an assistant business manager at a large beauty brand. I had no experience in recruitment, however I was pleasantly surprised with how I was able to adapt to the change in industry.”

How has Hays helped you towards success in your career?

“My skills in recruitment have been shaped and honed by Hays, from the innovative training courses to the chance to work alongside more experienced recruiters. I’ve also benefitted from close relationships with senior members of the business that have always offered advice and support.”

What excites you most about your future at Hays?

“I have thoroughly enjoyed my time with Hays so far, continued progression is something that excites me and that the possibilities are endless, the more you put in the more you get out. The culture is great here, too, everyone in the business is so kind and friendly and I think this is so important.”

What advice would you give to someone considering this career?

“Align yourself to a desk you have an interest in so you are passionate about what you do. Be yourself and be confident, as the biggest part of the job is to forge strong relationships with both clients and candidates, and you want to be the person that people choose to come back to.”

Supported to succeed
